

Directory of Social Impact Bond (SIB) Investment Funds

Big Lottery Fund has been engaging directly with a wide range of financial institutions, grant foundations and investment funds that have worked with outcomes based projects needing start up investment. A significant proportion of these have invested in SIBs.

Organisations looking to Invest in SIBs have indicated that they seek the earliest opportunity to engage with SIB proposals at an early stage.

A core group of these have provided us with information, summarising their involvement in up-front investment in outcomes based projects, particularly Social Impact Bonds. Each entry included in this directory has been submitted by the organisation in question. Big Lottery Fund has also provided a list of websites and contact details of other potential investors and sources of finance for your reference as part of this directory.

This directory does not represent any recommendation by the Big Lottery Fund or the Life Chances Fund to select one or more of the investor(s) listed in the directory, as opposed to one or more investor(s) not included in this directory. We strongly suggest you undertake a skills audit to ascertain need and obtain independent advice in procuring any technical support providers.

The directory was last updated in August 2017.

Directory of SIB Investment Funds Index

The directory contains summaries of these investment funds and grant foundations:

Please carefully consider issues relating to conflict of interest and the effect on your procurement processes for the final application when choosing an investor. As referenced in programme Q&As neither Commissioning Better Outcomes nor the Life Chances Fund will allow CBO/LCF development funding to pay for activities by an organisation that may then invest in the resulting proposition, either directly or via a fund they manage.

Big Issue Invest (BII)

Big Issue Invest is the social investment arm of The Big Issue Group, a social enterprise with a mission to dismantle poverty and create opportunity in the UK. We have invested in over 300 organisations across the UK and make investments of £20,000 to £3m to support social impact areas including Education Employment & Training, Housing & Homelessness, Physical and Mental Health, Financial Inclusion, and Sustainable Communities. Previous experience with SIBs:

Big Issue Invest has invested in multiple Social Impact Bonds since 2012 across a range of social impact areas. Bridges Social Sector Funds

Previous experience with SIB Investment:

Bridges is a specialist social impact investor with £1bn of funds under management. The Bridges Social Impact Bond team is a not-for-profit team within Bridges which has invested into 19 SIBs. Since 2012, we've worked with commissioners and providers to design and deliver outcomes contracts across the UK. So far, these projects have helped over 15,000 beneficiaries, worked with 33 charities and social enterprises, and achieved over £50m worth of outcomes for over 30 local and national government departments. Some of the SIBs we support have also been successful in working with other organisations to contribute to outcomes payments, such as schools, NHS trusts, universities and philanthropists.

Impact areas:

We manage a dedicated pool of capital of £25m to invest into SIBs, and we aim to catalyse £50m of outcomes contracts, which will deliver positive social outcomes worth over £100m to society.

Our approach:

Our approach to outcomes contracts and SIBs is set out in the report 'Better Outcomes, Better Value'. We believe that any outcomes contract (or SIB) should always aim for commissioners to achieve better, more or cheaper social outcomes than any alternative approach (either internal or external). If the SIB fails to deliver demonstrably better results than the commissioner's 'best available comparable option' – then the additional cost (including the return to investors) should always be zero. We believe this 'Base Case Zero' model is critical to the future of SIBs.

In addition to providing working capital to charities and social enterprises to bid for and deliver outcomes contracts or SIBs, we also offer a 'co-commissioning' service, which can work alongside local commissioners to procure and manage outcomes / Payment by Results contracts.

More information is available at www.betteroutcomesbettervalue.org

Policy areas: We are interested to explore projects across any policy area, provided that the contract will deliver better social outcomes, and better value for government. However, we have deeply specialised expertise in the following 4 areas: children's services, educational support, homelessness and health/social care.

CAF VENTURESOME

Previous experience with SIB Investment:

CAF Venturesome is one of the most established players in the UK social investment market, having made more than 500 deals over 14 years. We are an impact first investor, focusing on low-cost unsecured debt, to support high impact charities and social enterprises across the UK, through the four funds that we run.

We have a strong track record of being a lead and co-investor in SIBs, working with multiple providers, commissioners and intermediaries, and in 2012 published “Funding Good Outcomes” – a policy paper on payment by results contracts based on our experience in this space. SIBs we have invested in include Aspire Gloucestershire; Teens & Toddlers and St Mungo’s Broadway.

Service area:

We are always interested in hearing about new SIB investment opportunities. When considering these our primary focus is on the social impact potential of the intervention and the long-term financial and organisational benefit for the delivery organisation. We prioritise simpler SIB models - those that are quickest and cheapest to set up and to monitor, and where our funding can play a significant role. We tend to invest between £200,000 & £300,000 and look for SIBs where the total financing need does not exceed £1m.

Social and Sustainable Capital (SASC)

Previous experience with SIB Investment:

Social and Sustainable Capital (SASC) manages two funds with a combined value of £50 million. It aims to invest these funds in a way that will generate both social impact and a financial return. Funding payment by results (PBR) contracts is a key area of interest.

Policy and Service areas: SASC believes that while conventional social impact bond (SIB) structures have a role to play in the market, they can be expensive and inflexible. Wherever possible, SASC aims to put together a different kind of PBR structure. It favours a structure that is more flexible, lower cost and – importantly – allows a provider to share in the economics of the project. SASC has led the arrangement of one such project that gave a provider total financing of £1 million, and is working with another provider on a similar project.

Triple Point

Triple Point is a private partnership founded in 2004 with £470 million of funds under management. As a specialist investment firm we seek to make more than just money for our clients; we strive to create lasting value in everything we do. Triple Point's social investments are a key part of this philosophy. Since its inception Triple Point has partnered with charities and social enterprises to help them achieve their objectives. We have a track record of successfully funding organisations such as charities related to the NHS, local authority leisure trusts and housing associations. An example of our work with social enterprises is the provision of 82 specialised supported housing units in Stoke, Newcastle, Leeds and Rushden, with more in the pipeline.

In 2016 we arranged £1 million of social investment funding by bringing private individual investors and social enterprises together. This collaboration provided resources for an ambulance charity to expand its services, for an infant school to increase pre-school provision and for three senior schools and their communities to have access to new exercise facilities. The funding for these projects qualified for Social Investment Tax Relief, reducing the cost of capital for the investee organisations.

We are currently expanding our social investment activity into the Social Impact Bond ("SIB") field. Most SIBs are eligible for Social Investment Tax Relief, which increases the capital available to achieve social outcomes by reducing investor return requirements.

Previous experience with SIBs:

While we have not funded a SIB to date, we are actively engaged with the SIB market. We are currently bidding in partnership with a leading provider of children's services in a SIB tender and are working actively with providers in different locations to develop rough sleeping SIBs. Triple Point's track record of working closely with partner social enterprises; actively managing all projects to achieve the required outcomes; access to significant in-house administrative resources; and public sector experience are all relevant to the funding and management of SIBs.

We know that many social endeavours cannot be funded by social investment. To help address this we are committed to donating 20% of the profits generated by our Social Impact Bond business to charitable causes.

The Henry Smith Charity

Previous experience with SIB Finance and Investment:

The Henry Smith Charity is a large grant making charity, which has been helping to combat disadvantage since 1628. We make grants totalling approximately £25 million each year to up to 1,000 organisations and charities throughout the UK for initiatives and projects that address social inequality and economic disadvantage.

The Charity aims to fulfil its objects by providing a sustainable and growing grant-making programme, supporting a wide variety of charitable projects and organisations across the UK. We regard ourselves as a 'light-touch', very broad, generalist and predominantly reactive grant maker. We typically fund for three years to give a degree of stability and continuity and are happy to make grants towards general running costs, as this is sometimes the most helpful type of funding to the applicant.

The Charity aims to achieve the maximum possible beneficial social impact from its grant-making. We like to fund organisations which have real difficulty getting funding elsewhere and which demonstrate evidence of effective work meeting a compelling need. For this reason many of the grants are to fund smaller organisations and those without public appeal. Our expertise lies with projects that address social deprivation and invested in the first UK and world SIB in Peterborough.

Panahpur Charitable Trust

Policy and Service areas:

Panahpur is a UK-based foundation which seeks to operate its capital holistically to achieve its charitable goals, which reflect a concern for all people – especially the excluded, marginalised and vulnerable.

During the early 2000s, the board became uncomfortable with the idea that charitable foundations focused exclusively on financial outcomes. They took the decision to move out of conventional investment because they fund work with people who are vulnerable and excluded and they saw inequality as one of the big causes of their exclusion. This led the board to seek alternatives which led the Foundation into the emerging world of Social Investment. The Foundation invested in the first UK and world SIB in Peterborough.

Paul Hamlyn Foundation

Policy and Service areas: The Paul Hamlyn Foundation was established by Paul Hamlyn in 1987. Upon his death in 2001, he left most of his estate to the Foundation, creating one of the largest independent grant-making foundations in the UK. The Foundation's mission is to help people overcome disadvantage and lack of opportunity, so that they can realise their potential and enjoy fulfilling and creative lives. To that end it invested in the first UK and world SIB in Peterborough. In 2015 the Foundation announced a new strategy, to ensure that we focused on achieving six strategic priorities where we wanted to see change. We have designed new funds, some of which are open now, to help organisations and individuals to work towards these aims. We are also continuing with many of our existing programmes.

Our most important partners in this are the organisations and individuals whom we fund and whose work results in a better quality of life for those they serve. Our role is not to manage their programmes or stand in their way, but we can, when appropriate, offer support and advice, and to do so, we value the contribution of the people who work for the Foundation – staff, advisors and trustees – all of whom bring experience and skills to our activities.

There are limited opportunities in the UK for individuals with bold ideas for achieving social impact, but operating outside of an established organisational context, to access financial support. It is particularly difficult for people with new ideas to secure funding to support the earliest stages of ideas development – to enable scoping and exploratory work, ideas generation and the necessary development work prior to launch and testing of a new approach or venture.

Tudor Trust

Previous experience with SIB Investment:

Tudor invested in the first UK and world SIB in Peterborough.

We make grants, and provide other types of support, to voluntary and community groups working in any part of the UK. We particularly want to help smaller, community-led organisations that work directly with people who are at the margins of society: organisations that support positive changes in people's lives and in their communities. We want to respond flexibly to your ideas and energy, and to fund effective organisations working to high standards.

Policy and Service areas: Our ability to be flexible can mean that we are well-placed to support organisations which are in transition, whether they are entering a period of growth and development or are responding creatively to challenging circumstances.

As an independent grant maker an important part of our role is to support work which is untried and which has uncertain outcomes. However, we are not interested in innovation for innovation's sake: we also recognise the need for sound, practical work which seeks to bring stability and wellbeing into difficult places and situations.

We trust the groups we fund and aim to build open and straightforward relationships with the groups we support. Our funding guidelines are broad because we want to support the work that you really want to do. We seek to give you the opportunity and practical tools to do the work that you know is needed. We try to offer high levels of support and engagement when this is helpful and appropriate.
